

HEALTH SURVEILLANCE CASE STUDY

LATUS

Because Good Health, is Good Business

Harrison Castings Enhances Employee Health with Latus Group

Harrison Castings, a company that places great importance on both the well-being of its employees and compliance with industry health and safety regulations, partnered with Latus Group for their routine health surveillance. Services included Audiometry, Spirometry, and Management Referrals to support the ongoing health of Harrison Castings' workforce.

Harrison Castings successfully implemented a robust health surveillance program tailored to the unique challenges of their manufacturing environment. With audiometry, spirometry, and management referral services in place, the company ensured the health and safety of its workforce while complying with regulatory standards. Harrison Castings continues to demonstrate its commitment to employee welfare, fostering a healthy and safe workplace for its valued team members.

BENEFITS

- Enhanced Employee Well-being:
- Compliance with Regulations
- Proactive Health Management
- Increased Employee Confidence

*"5 STAR all involved very helpful and professional.
RoZIA is a credit to the company very helpful and understanding was a pleasure to have on site 10 out of 10."*

Simon Taylor, Harrison Castings

LATUS

Because Good Health is Good Business