FAHR INDUSTRIES

Fahr Industries operates in a high-noise environment due to the heavy machinery used in production. To comply with UK Health and Safety Executive regulations, Fahr Industries partnered with Latus Group UK to implement a health surveillance program focusing on audiometry testing for 37 employees.

The regular monitoring and preventive measures have not only reduced the risk of hearing loss among workers but also reinforced the company's commitment to employee well-being and operational excellence.

“From the first call and initial discussions to completing the health checks, the process was explained fully and made me feel at ease and assured; Tessa was fantastic and explained in plain detail exactly what was going to happen over the next 2 days.”
